Dear Haixi

I am writing to let you know that we have received your submission, MS 12812, entitled "Monitoring Structural Breaks in Dynamic Regression Models with Bayesian Sequential Probability Test" for publication in Journal of Applied Econometrics.

I sent your paper to an expert in the field for an initial screen review, and unfortunately the referee has not responded favourably towards your paper and recommends rejection. The brief report is as follows:

"This is a nicely written paper. However, its contents are more suitable for a journal like CSDA or EcoStat."

I have looked at the paper myself and I concur with the referee; it is not clear that the paper contains sufficient new material to warrant publication in the Journal of Applied Econometrics. In view of this I am afraid I cannot offer you publication.

I hope that this negative decision does not discourage you from submitting your applied work to the Journal of Applied Econometrics in the future.

Sincerely,

Herman van Dijk
